We are Valmo India's most reliable and lowest cost logistics service partner

Our aim is to streamline the logistics process – offering a smooth and efficient delivery experience, all while delivering excellent value by offering the lowest cost.

Our commitment to achieving this goal is encapsulated in our very name—Valmo—a delightful combination of "Movement" driven by "Value." The name encapsulates our core principle of facilitating value-for-money logistics, and our dedication to provide high quality service.

Our mission

To deliver India's most reliable and lowest cost supply chain logistics.

Our vision

To create a future where logistics is effortless, reliable, offered at the best value, and accessible to all. Thus, allowing small and large businesses to focus on their business goals, while we handle the rest.

Who are we serving?

Currently our customers consist of all sellers on the Meesho platform, spanning both well established enterprises as well as dynamic small brands.

Valmo Captains

The partners who own these Airhubs will be known as Captains. These are people who own the first/last mile hubs and are responsible for all operations happening in these hubs.

Valmo Pilots

Each first and last mile node will have pickup / delivery executives who interact with our sellers / customers on a day to day basis. These people will be known as Valmo Pilots, who will be responsible for ensuring secure and timely pickup or delivery of the shipments.

Valmo Base

All the middle nodes in our operations, including sort centres and cross docks, will be known as Valmo Base. These nodes will be critical in handling large scale operations efficiently and providing the right direction to our shipments.

Valmo Handlers

Given the large number of shipments being handled by people working in sort centres / cross docks, these sorting specialists will be known as Valmo Handlers.

What is franchise

Franchising is a business model in which the franchiser owns the brand, name, and operational system, while the franchisee pays fees to use them and receive ongoing support. Unlike starting an independent business, franchising allows the franchisee to operate under an established brand with a proven business model. Franchising offers great benefits, including the opportunity to learn core business skills, access a successful business model, and operate under a respected brand. Franchisees also receive initial and ongoing training, as well as product and technical assistance.

Why valmo franchise ?

By registering as a courier franchise, you get a unique opportunity to open a company-branded outlet in your city and offer all our shipping and packing services to customers. Our extensive domestic network and exclusive international partnerships allow our franchises to book shipments to 6,000+ pin codes across India.
